Children's Area Artwork

Local window artist Joy Fornoff has generously donated her time and talent to decorate the windows in the children's area. Currently there is a winter wonderland scene helping to get us in the holiday spirit. Make sure to drive by or stop in to see it.

Picturing America

Picturing America is the newest initiative of the We The People program of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Launched in 2002, this program exposes people to outstanding American art, and strengthens the understanding of America's history and founding principles.

The Wahoo Public Library was awarded this collection in the spring of 2009 to share with the community. Selections can be found on the Art Gallery Wall of the meeting room.

We welcome you to come in and view the works of art.
