NOVEMBER 2008

Deck your halls!

It's time for the 9th annual library Christmas Sale. We are currently accepting your good quality Christmas decorations for our sale. The sale starts on November 17th during regular library hours. You can drop off your donations any time!

Food For Fines

Here is your chance to erase a library fine & help fill the local food pantry! Use your food instead of cash to pay off that fine.

Starting Monday, November 10th, for every dollar that a patron owes in library fines we will remove the fine in exchange for a donation of one non-perishable item to the food pantry.

Suggested items are cans of fruit and vegetables, canned pasta, tuna and soup. Personal care items are also always in demand.

So remember ONE FOOD ITEM = $ 1 IN FINES

Fine of $4.00 = 4 food items

Only unopened, pre-packaged food will be accepted, no perishable food. Food accepted for fines only, NOT for lost material charges. This will run until Saturday, November 29th.

Friends News

you'll be able to purchase these already gift wrapped.

Come check out our tree during the Annual Christmas on the Prairie. The Friends are working on decorating a tree for the Saunders County Museum tree display. The theme is Christmas Around the World. Make sure you visit the museum on December 6th or 7th and admire all of the trees.

Check out our art wall!

Did you know that the library now has an art wall in the meeting room? The wall is open to any group or individual to display their work. Just stop in at the library's front desk and fill out a request form.

We are currently displaying the work of Staci Pierce, the elementary art teacher at Wahoo Public Schools. Come in a take a peek at her various works that she has created. Also displayed are some works by Clara Bartak.

Friends Bookstore

Open during regular library hours is the Friends of the Wahoo Public Library bookstore. In the store you'll find books from every genre. Prices are listed at the door and payment can be made at the front desk. New materials are always arriving so check it out! If you want to donate some books or videos, just bring them to the front desk.
